Prostate Cancer Webinar: Talk That Talk, April 4 @ 7pm

Due to stark health disparities in the United States that result in higher rates of prostate cancer diagnosis and death for Black men, The Balm In Gilead, Inc. will present a free webinar titled "Talk That Talk: Prostate Cancer and Black Men" on April 4, 2023 at 7:00pm ET via Zoom at <https://bit.ly/talkthattalkapril23>.

 A.J. STARLING SECRETARY/TREASURER TENNESSEE AFL - CIO NASHVILLE, TN	 REV. DR. NATHANIEL T. BROOKS SENIOR PASTOR GREATER SAINT JOHN BAPTIST CHURCH BIRMINGHAM, AL	 DR. MICHAEL BIVINS UROLOGIST UROLOGY CENTERS OF ALABAMA HOMEWOOD, AL

"Talk That Talk: Prostate Cancer and Black Men" will address how Black institutions, especially faith communities, can help build awareness about prostate cancer. Dr. Seele will host the webinar. The expert panel will include moderator Rev. Dr. Nathaniel T. Brooks, senior pastor, Greater St. John Baptist Church, Birmingham, AL, who is a leader in community cancer education, in conversation with guests Dr. V. Michael Bivins, a urologist at Urology Centers of Alabama, and A.J. Starling, secretary-treasurer of the Tennessee AFL-CIO, who is a prostate cancer survivor.

Prostate cancer hits Black Men earlier and harder. Our community needs to be more informed about prostate cancer, especially the non-invasive screening test that can save lives.
